

How Wall-paper will save you energy.

Soon the walls will light up your house. Razor-thin plastic sheets made by the chemical industry radiate a pleasant light and save more electricity than conventional energy-saving lamps. Which is easy on the wallet and on the climate. The chemical industry in Germany is developing more practical products for the future. Let us know what benefits you'd like to see from our new technologies.

CHEMISTRY MAKES FUTURE.

www.chemie-macht-zukunft.de